

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Systems and methods for managing a process. More particularly, a secure, global computer network-based application that tracks and manages the steps of a defined process from start to finish. The application is accessible by multiple parties and automatically
5 notifies pre-selected parties when certain milestones are reached. The application also has the ability to document information relevant to the completion of an assigned task.

10

:702410\1

15